Game Features:

- Explore the Expansive Scenery of ARK Park: Visit over 10 unique scenes alone or with a group of friends.
- Collect Dinosaur DNA, Gather Materials, and Craft Items: Collect DNA and materials from the dinosaurs you encounter on your excursions, trade them for Engrams at your base camp, then use those Engrams to craft helpful items.
- Raise Your Very Own Dinosaurs: During your excursions throughout the park, you may be lucky enough to collect a rare dino egg. Take good care of it until it hatches, and you'll be able to raise your own dinosaurs from hatchlings to adulthood. Some dinos may even grow to be large enough to ride!

This is a disgusting rip off of a game. DO NOT BUY IT. IT IS A CASH GRAB. After 5,500+ hours in ark, I can say for sure that this is just a complete \u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665ing rip off. The megapithecus and therizinos look like n64 characters.. After waiting for what it seems like a very long time, as this game was postponed a few times, I finally had a chance to enter Ark Park. My excitement for this game begun when it was announced as an educational tool, where you could explore and learn about dinosaurs in VR. Given that the few dinosaur VR games so far where mostly shooters or poorly rendered experiences, my hopes were high. Unfortunately, I was greatly disappointed with this title. The exploration parts were more limited than I expected and way more scripted that they made me believe it was. For the tag price I expected much more. As it is, I can't recommend this game. Wait for more updates or skip it entirely. As it is, I feel cheated of 45 dollars.. I bought this game hoping that despite the negative reviews it would still be a fun game for me (I love ARK and dinosaurs so this should be right up my alley). The game idea is good, there is so much potential here but I am sad to say it was not executed right. The tourist location in the park with all the holograms (possibly the part I was most excited for) was good at first, however I shortly realised how small it was, and that is this games problem. It is small. The entire thing itself is not bad, I enjoyed it a lot but as other reviews have stated it is just a tech demo and no more.

For someone like me who is not intersted in shooting waves of dinosaurs and more interested in seeing them up close and exploring areas you will feel let down as the only way I currently know to get eggs to grow more personal dinosaurs is to complete the shooting waves. The dinosaur rides was a cool concept but again let down by how small it really is, there is only one track to ride down with the same scripted events each time.

I really wanted this game to be good, I was very excited for it and it was not terrible just very small. If you want to try this game I would highly reccomend waiting for a sale because the price tag is extremely high for the content that they provide. There are only 5 tiny explorable areas with the same scripted events each time, which I would not mind if there were a lot more of these areas. Overall I am dissappointed with this game.

Rate: 3/10. Few developers seriously develop VR content.
Many VR games are simply content and expensive, or they just give a VR perspective to an existing game.

Except for ARK Park,
my son and I have been waiting for this game for a long time because I like VR and he likes dinosaurs.

He was very excited and played in the hall with holographic dinosaurs for a long time.
The interaction with dinosaurs fascinated him.
The fighting part with dinosaurs made me nervous.

But dinosaurs are not many,
It is hoped that more dinosaurs will watch the children interact;
Or more pure and richer VR fights,
Between players and players or players and dinosaurs.

Excellent ! ! !. TL:DR
It's a fun VR experience for a few hours no real replayability.

Pros.

Unlike Ark survival evolved dinosaurs not starve to death (I put the game down for about a month-and-a-half and dinos that I hatched and were growing are still there) many of the bugs that existed earlier have been fixed and they added free movement.

Cons.

Unfortunately still not a lot to do in game and free movement is pretty slow (would like the ability to adjust it)

Overall.

Despite the bug fixes and changes I still cannot recommend it especially not at full price, however if this is the type of Ark experience you're looking for and you don't mind paying for just a few hours of the Ark vr experience then pick it up.

(Old review)

TL:DR severe lack of content run out of things to do within about 3 hours max.

Pros.

It has Ark survival evolved assets, it's a decent exploration / wave turret defense VR experience.

Cons.

Lots of bugs (game crashes game won't even start controller issues ETC). They felt the need to bring over incubation timers from Ark survival evolved. Can't rebind keys. Poor overall quality.

Overall.

If you like ark or shooter Dino cross VR then you'll probably enjoy this however I would strongly advise waiting for a sell as $40 it's just not worth it.

Edit.

I should also add that it's clear the developers clearly didn't play ark, as they mislabeled a giga as a rex and a rex as a giga for the achievements to kill the bosses on 2-2 and 2-3 in game they are the opposite as to what they are labeled as.. I've played a ton of VR games, and this is the best dinosaur game I ever played.

If you have a vive or a oculus, you should buy this.

Going to play some multiplayer now,

I'm hoping this will be great as well.. Ark is one of my favorite game, and i have been looking forward to this since it was announced.

The game does have good aspects but it also have some really negative ones too

Pros

You get to be in a VR world with dinosaurs

You get to hatch and grow said dinosaurs

It is a fun first time experience

Cons

Really short game, i have done almost everything you can do in this game and after that it just isn't that fun anymore.

There is no one in multiplayer

The trailers make the game look a lot cooler than it actually is

It is not worth $40, Wait for a sale

Do not buy the tek edition, i don't even have it but i can already tell it is not worth it

If the game is updated with new things in the future and more replayability is added i will consider playing this game more.. The dinosaurs seem to follow predefined animations. Everything felt really confined. I had hoped to explore large environments but instead felt like I was boxed into following predefined pathways. I really had high hopes that this would be a great experience.

The price seems way too high for what it is.

Absolutely terrible game!

The tutorial is bigger than the game itself. I thought this was an open world island exploration game, but it isn't. The playable world is as small as your livingroom, and that's it.. Well... I saw the negative reviews. bought it anyway. It's exactly what everyone is saying. It is wayyyyy overpriced because it's buggy asf. I really like the concept though. I'm debating on keeping it just for my 8 year old to look at Dinosaurs.... but the damn price is making that a difficult choice. Don't buy this expecting anything other than what the negative reviews say... they are not exaggerating.. Where do I even start..The game looked so promising and for the best experience I bought a TitanXp after looking at the trailers. Set up pixel density at 2.6 on my HTC Vove, game still looked grainy and crappy with maxed out graphics. Horrendous beginning of the game, where you start off on the opposite end of the sea/lake and have to wait for 3 good minutes just to get to boring museum aka tech demo spot where you get to finally play (you have to repeat travel via the train every time you want to get into multiplayer which is also pretty awkwardly set up). You arrive to the museum and it does not look good at all, it just smells boring, it's completely empty. Imagine traveling on the train, that is also empty, to the empty museum, you never see a soul in the game. My game glitched in some weired way that I did not see a little flying thing telling me what to do in game, instead I was there alone and couldn't do anything once I got outside, basically my missions were stalled and all I could do is shoot at the dummies or boxes. Went to multiplayer set it up by myself to be as a single player. Most boring wave shooter I ever seen! Boring dinousaurs, boring landscape, guerilla that keeps throwing giant rocks for 5-10 solid minutes where your arm gets tired of holding the gun up, grind grind grind. I honestly don't know if developers will be able to make it playeble, it seems like they tried to be everything and they failed at every aspekt. Could have been a solid wave shooter for up to 4 players, could have been a great exploring/survival game. Instead it's one lousy tech demo with crappy graphics. Developers should have learned somethign from makers of Robinson: The Journey. I got my copy refunded.. I honestly want to like this game, unfortunately I can't. I saw this the day it was announced and I was so excited, all because my favorite movie is Jurassic Park. I can't recommend this game only mainly because of it's extremely long loading times. I spent about 40 minutes in the game, and didn't even get to finish the tutorial because of how long I waited, and I just got fed up. So yes, I will be refunding. And I don't recommend this game.. running 1080 64 gig 12 thread cpu wmr and its terrible. so blurry I can't even play it!!!! my other games run fine. no ajustment i make helps.
